

Year at a Glance

Alberta has a unique, innovative model that provides opportunities for thousands of charitable and religious groups to benefit financially from gaming activities. In 2008-09, 11,274 non-profit groups across the province earned $335 million dollars to support their programs and activities by conducting bingos and casinos (table games), selling pull-tickets, and holding raffles. The funds from charitable gaming are used to help our communities stay vibrant and attractive for residents and newcomers alike.

Except for licensing and registration fees, proceeds (revenues less expenses) go directly to the charities that conduct the events. Charitable and religious groups conducting a casino event keep the proceeds from the table games, less a service fee for the facility operator. In a similar fashion, charities keep all the proceeds they earn from bingos, raffles and pull-ticket sales after operating expenses. Charities also receive a portion of the revenues from slot machines, electronic bingo and Keno.

MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

The province of Alberta has a charitable gaming model for casinos, bingo, raffles and pull tickets. This means that charitable and religious groups can apply to conduct certain gaming activities to raise funds for approved projects and services. Through this model, the Alberta Gaming and Liquor Commission (AGLC) ensures Albertans benefit from the positive social and economic benefits generated by gaming in the province.

In 2008-09, I am proud to report that Alberta's charitable gaming model provided over $335 million to thousands of charitable and religious groups for reinvestment back into their communities.

While the AGLC ensures that charities benefit from Alberta's gaming model, it also ensures that gaming activities are conducted with integrity and in a socially responsible manner. In 2008-09 alone, the AGLC completed over 5,100 inspections of charitable gaming licensees. It also processed over 5,000 licence applications and mailed out almost 6,500 charitable gaming financial reports. The AGLC continued to offer various social responsibility programs, including A Good Call (bingo staff training) and Deal Us In (casino staff training).

During 2008-09, the AGLC continued to work closely with charitable and religious groups across the province to ensure charitable gaming remained a viable fundraising opportunity for charities. The AGLC recognizes that the achievements of these charitable groups would not be possible without the tireless work of thousands of volunteers across the province. I would like to acknowledge their ongoing dedication and the positive contribution that they continue make to Alberta's charitable gaming industry.

I would like to congratulate Alberta's charities on their achievements in 2008-09 and wish them continued success in 2009-10.

Gerry McLennan Chief Executive Officer

Introduction

Alberta's unique charitable gaming model is in place to ensure charities receive maximum benefits from gaming activities. In 2008-09, over 11,000 charities earned $335 million through charitable gaming activities such as bingos, casinos, pull-tickets and raffles. These proceeds were used to support community projects and initiatives for non-profit and volunteer organizations throughout Alberta.

Alberta's charitable gaming model is highly regarded by charitable groups and stakeholders. This annual review provides information about Alberta's charitable gaming model including:

- Which groups are eligible for gaming licenses;
- How charitable gaming funds are used;
- The amount generated by charities from each gaming activity; and
- How the province maintains the integrity of gaming activities.

Also included in this annual review is information about the Gaming Information for Charitable Groups (GAIN) program, which educates charitable and religious groups about how the charitable gaming model works.

All the reference material cited in this publication, such as specific terms and conditions for each gaming activity, is available on the Alberta Gaming and Liquor Commission (AGLC) website at aglc.ca.

Charitable Gaming Revenue

It can take up to seven months after the completion of a raffle, pull-ticket, or community bingo event for the event data to be submitted to and reviewed by the AGLC. This is the normal timeframe given the various stages of the process involved. Various delays may be encountered which may lengthen this timeframe.

As such, this report is based on the following data:

- BINGOS: data is based on the current fiscal year for bingo events conducted at licensed bingo facilities and prior year data for bingo events conducted at community bingo facilities. Data from community bingos with gross sales under $2,500 is not included.
- · CASINOS: data is based on the current fiscal year.
- PULL-TICKETS: for 2008-09, data is based on the current fiscal year for pull-tickets sold at licensed bingo facilities and prior year data for pull-tickets sold in all other locations. For 2007-08 and prior years, data is based on the prior fiscal year.
- RAFFLES: data is based on the current fiscal year for raffles with gross sales under $10,000 and prior year information for raffles with gross sales over $10,000. Data for raffles with gross sales under $10,000 is not included in 2006-07 and prior years.

The total amount wagered on casino table games includes the total poker rake from poker table games (Maximum of $5 per hand) and tournaments (10 per cent). The operator's fee from the poker rake is included under the expense column.

Mandate

In accordance with the Gaming and Liquor Act, the Gaming and Liquor Regulation, and the Criminal Code of Canada, the AGLC's mandate is to:

- License, regulate and monitor gaming and liquor activities in Alberta;
- Define operating policies and procedures for gaming and liquor activities;
- Ensure integrity and social responsibility in the operation of gaming and liquor activities;
- Collect gaming and liquor revenue;

- Ensure business and program operations run efficiently and effectively;
- · Disburse provincial lottery revenues;
- Independently or with industry and government, develop and implement programs and services to address problem gambling and responsible alcohol consumption; and
- Communicate to gaming and liquor stakeholders accurate and timely information.

In addition to licensing eligible groups for charitable gaming events, the AGLC administers the Alberta Lottery Fund, including the collection and disbursement of proceeds. Alberta Lottery Fund proceeds come from electronic gaming activities such as VLTs, slot machines, electronic bingo and ticket lotteries. Alberta Lottery Fund grants are administered by 14 government ministries and fund a variety of programs, projects and foundations that support all Alberta communities.

Protecting Gaming Integrity and Accountability

Albertans expect the AGLC to maintain the integrity and accountability of gaming in the province — and legislation requires us to do so. The AGLC works with charitable groups and the gaming industry to ensure that everyone who participates in a licensed gaming event has a fair chance to win. We also make sure the proceeds from charitable gaming benefit the community. Regulation and financial reporting requirements are key to the success of Alberta's charitable gaming model.

Regulation

All gaming activities must comply with the Criminal Code, the Gaming and Liquor Act, Gaming and Liquor Regulation, and AGLC policies.

AGLC inspectors visit gaming sites and perform random checks of activities to ensure that rules are being followed. (If you meet an inspector during your event, it's a great opportunity to ask questions about the legislation, regulation or policies!) If the rules are not being followed, the inspector prepares a report and informs the group. Disciplinary action by the Board of the AGLC may take place — ranging from warnings to suspension or removal of licences.

The AGLC also monitors the gaming industry and charitable gaming licensees to help maintain financial integrity. Audits help ensure that gaming proceeds are used for approved purposes and that gaming operations and record-keeping processes comply with legislative and policy requirements.

Reporting Financial Returns

As licensed charities, groups are required to report to the AGLC how gaming proceeds have been used. A separate financial report is required for each licence. Groups must account for the proceeds as well as interest, dividends and other income earned on the proceeds.

The AGLC mails financial reports to each charity, which the group must return within 60 days from the date of mailing.

Gaming proceeds must be used within two years after the proceeds are obtained. Any extension of this period must be approved in advance by the AGLC.

If a charity wants to use the proceeds for purposes other than those in its original application, the charity is required to obtain the approval of the AGLC before it spends the proceeds for the new purposes. This ensures the proposed new use of funds is in accordance with the Criminal Code and reflects a use that is charitable or religious in nature. If gaming proceeds are used for unapproved purposes, the AGLC will investigate and may require the funds be returned.

Web Access

A number of licensing services are available to licensed charitable groups on the AGLC website. Once registered for a web account, groups can do the following online:

- · View their gaming licences;
- · View their consolidated bank account information;
- View their current registered organization contact list;
- · View their current "Use of Proceeds" list;
- Register on-line for GAIN sessions (see page 9); and
- Submit their financial report online (for Raffles under $10,000).

Applying for a web account is easy. An "Internet Account Request" Form (Form 5536) is available on the AGLC website at aglc.ca. Once approved, groups are sent a user ID and password via email.

CHARITABLE Becoming a GAMING LICENSEE

If your group is interested in charitable gaming and, if your group meets the qualification requirements, your first step is to apply for a charitable gaming licence. Charitable gaming licence forms are available on the AGLC website at aglc.ca or you can obtain licence forms by calling the AGLC toll-free at 1-800-272-8876 or 310-0000.

A separate application form must be completed for each licence (bingo, casino, raffle or pull-ticket) and supporting documents must be attached. Once complete, forms should be sent to:

Alberta Gaming and Liquor Commission Regulatory Division 50 Corriveau Avenue St. Albert, Alberta T8N 3T5

Application forms can also be faxed to the AGLC at 780-447-8912.

Once we receive the application, we will review the information to determine if your group is eligible for a charitable gaming licence. The eligibility of all applicants is based on the eligibility criteria for organizational structure, program delivery and use of gaming proceeds as outlined in the Charitable Gaming Policies Handbook, which is available on our website at aglc.ca.

If your group's eligibility cannot be determined by a review of the information contained in the submitted application, additional information may be requested and/or an AGLC representative may meet with your group and/ or conduct other inquiries to complete a more detailed eligibility review. The AGLC works to review and process all applications for a gaming licence within 12 weeks of receipt of a complete application. Processing applications and determining eligibility may take longer if the submitted application information is incomplete or a more detailed eligibility review is required to determine eligibility.

If you obtain your licence and become a charitable gaming licensee, you will receive an information package from the AGLC. Staff will also provide information that will help you conduct your event in accordance with terms and conditions.

Once you have held your event, you must deposit the gaming proceeds into a separate gaming account. You may consolidate all gaming proceeds into a single account if you conduct more than one type of event (e.g., bingo and casino).

You may use the gaming proceeds only for uses approved by your licence. If you wish to use gaming proceeds for other purposes, you must obtain AGLC approval. You have two years to use gaming proceeds from the time you receive the funds.

Financial reporting is required for every gaming licence. All records must be kept for a period of two years after the licence expires. More information about financial reporting is available on the AGLC website at aglc.ca.

Tips when submitting your eligibility and application forms:

- Double check you have submitted all required documentation;
 - Ensure your program has been operational for the required amount of time;
 - Ensure membership is open to the public;
- Ensure that you have a democratically elected board/executive;
 - Ensure your bylaws have a dissolution clause;
- Ensure your Corporate Registry annual returns have been filed on a regular basis;
- For casino applications, ensure your group has the required number of volunteers.
 - For bingo and casino applicants, ensure your group is not related to another group already licensed.

Wow!

During 2008-09, 98% of the over 2,700 GAIN participants rated the session as good or excellent!

Eligibility

AND ALLOWABLE USES OF PROCEEDS

The Criminal Code requires that groups participating in charitable gaming are charitable or religious in nature and that the proceeds be directed to charitable or religious purposes. The province's Gaming and Liquor Act, Gaming and Liquor Regulation, and its gaming policies establish the standards for conducting gaming activities; this includes which groups may be eligible for gaming licences and how they may use the gaming proceeds.

There are three key components the AGLC considers when assessing a group's eligibility for gaming licensing:

- Structure Is it broad-based and democratic?
- Program Delivery How long have programs or services been offered? How do the group's programs or services benefit the community?
- Use of Proceeds How will the money be spent?

Only non-profit groups are eligible for charitable gaming licences. In addition, eligible groups must:

- · Have a broad-based volunteer membership,
- Have an executive democratically chosen from its membership,
- · Have unpaid members, directors or officers,
- Have programs which benefit a large segment of the community, not the individual members' self interest,
- Have members who are responsible for establishing, maintaining control of and delivering the group's programs, and
- Be incorporated (except for raffles with a total ticket value of $10,000 or less).

Eligible groups must have actively delivered a charitable program to the community for at least one year before applying for a gaming licence. For casino event applicants, an active record of program delivery for the previous 24 months is required. In locations where there is no casino waiting list, casino event licences will be considered after 12 months of proven program delivery. For bingo applicants and applicants for a raffle with a total ticket value of more than $100,000, an active record of program delivery for the previous 12 months is required.

The aim of this requirement is to ensure eligible groups have pre-existing support in the community and do not rely on gaming funds for program delivery. Gaming proceeds are intended to supplement the charitable activities of eligible groups rather than serve as a primary source of funding.

It is important for all applicant and licensed groups to notify the AGLC of any changes to the group's:

- Structure:
- Objectives;
 - Bylaws;
- Executive;
- Use of Proceeds; and
- Programs or services.

Allowable Uses of Proceeds

How can charitable gaming proceeds be used?

Part of the proceeds may be used to pay for prizes and other expenses related to operating the event. The remainder of the gaming proceeds must be used for the charitable or religious purposes stated in the charitable group's licence application. To change the use of proceeds, groups are required to submit a written request to the AGLC, and if approved, the group's licence will be updated accordingly.

Charities have up to two years to use the funds.

If a group requires an extension of the two year period, a request for extension must be submitted to the AGLC along with a supporting business plan. The business plan must include:

- A written explanation as to why the proceeds have accumulated beyond 24 months;
- · Any other sources of revenue associated with the planned project or event;
- · A list of expenditures associated with the planned project or event; and
- Timelines for the anticipated disbursement of the accumulated proceeds.

Bingo licensees that operate at halls with electronic bingo also receive a portion of the proceeds from electronic bingo and Keno through a grant from the Alberta Lottery Fund.

Gaming proceeds also include interest, dividends or other income earned.

Starting on the next page is a list of allowable uses of gaming proceeds. For more information, please check the Charitable Gaming Policies Handbook or Host First Nations Charitable Casino Policies Handbook on the AGLC website at aglc.ca or contact the Regulatory Division of the AGLC (contact numbers are listed on page 41).

Allowable uses of proceeds for both traditional charities and First Nations charities are the same, however, they may be categorized differently between the two. For example, while there are separate categories for Equipment, Uniforms/Costumes and Vehicle Purchase/Repairs/Operation for traditional charities, there is only one category for Equipment, Uniforms, First Nations Regalia and Vehicles for First Nations charities. Even though they are categorized differently, the intent behind the policies is the same.

Additionally, to address the unique cultural needs of Alberta's First Nations, the Host First Nations Charitable Casino Policies Handbook allows First Nations charities to pay the costs incurred by Elders while performing charitable or religious activities. Eligible Elders' costs include: honorariums, fees or gifts, ceremonial tobacco, direct-rout travel to various events, meals while attending events, accommodation fees while attending events, and training costs of new elders.

Specific Allowable Uses of Proceeds

The following table is provided as a high level overview of the types of allowable uses of proceeds and is not intended to provide all ineligible uses of proceeds. For additional information on specific allowable uses of proceeds, please check the Charitable Gaming Policies Handbook on the AGLC website at aglc.ca or contact the Regulatory Division of the AGLC (contact numbers are listed on page 41).

Use of Charitable Gaming Proceeds by Charitable Groups

The proceeds from Charitable Gaming help support thousands of programs and services provided by charities to their communities. These proceeds are earned by groups that conduct the gaming activities.

The following table summarizes how charitable and religious groups used the proceeds from gaming activities between 2003-04 and 2007-08. As charities have two years to use the funds they earned from gaming events, the proceeds reported in the table below will not equal the proceeds received by charities in those years.

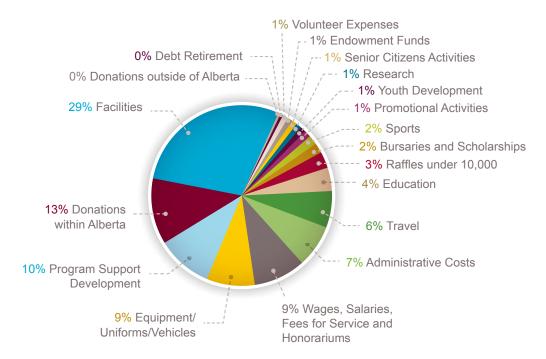

Since charities report on their use of proceeds on an ongoing basis, complete data for 2008-09 is not yet available. Data for 2008-09 will be reported in the 2009-10 Charitable Gaming in Review report. Data for First Nations use of proceeds from casino events appears on page 22 of this report.

Bingo

Highlights

In 2008-09, 29,284 bingo events generated gross revenues of $156.4 million across the province. Of this amount, $102.1 million was returned to bingo players as prizes and $46.4 million was spent by charities for expenses, leaving net proceeds of $7.9 million. Charities received an additional $7.2 million from electronic bingo and Keno proceeds, for a combined total of $15.1 million. Approximately 87 per cent of bingo proceeds in Alberta were generated in licensed bingo facilities (association bingo halls and private operator bingo halls).

Overview

Bingo may be conducted in three types of facilities in Alberta: Association Bingo Halls, Private Operator Bingo Halls, and Community Bingo Halls.

Association Bingo Facilities (Class A Licence)

This category is for a facility licence to an association made up of member charities that are eligible for a bingo licence. The facility operates at least four days a week. The association coordinates bingos for its members.

Licensed charities in bingo association halls may be approved to sell pull-tickets or offer electronic bingo or Keno. Electronic bingo allows players to play their bingo game electronically. Keno is a provincial lottery ticket product with draws held every five minutes. Minors are not allowed in halls offering electronic bingo or Keno.

The licensed charities provide volunteers for key financial positions during the bingo, including bingo chairperson, paymaster, bonanza controller and special games controller. The following are usually paid positions at association halls: caller, hall advisor, cashier, hall manager, pull-ticket manager and bookkeeper.

Bingo associations pool bingo and Keno proceeds monthly and allocate the proceeds among member charities according to the number of events per charity. Each association, through a pool agreement signed by all members, may decide to establish one pool for all events or separate pools for morning, afternoon, evening and late night events. Proceeds from pull-ticket sales are pooled quarterly. There were 33 bingo association halls in the province as of March 31, 2009.

Groups interested in joining a bingo association should contact the AGLC to be placed on a central registry waiting list for their region. Bingo associations seeking new members should contact the AGLC for names of interested charities.

Private Operator Bingo Facilities (Class B Licence)

In a private operator bingo facility, the private operator, under contract with the charities of a bingo society, supplies the space and services that enable charities to conduct their licensed bingo events. In keeping with Alberta's charitable gaming model, bingo events held in Class B facilities must be conducted and managed by licensed charities. Like licensed charities in association bingo halls, licensed charities conducting bingo events in private operator halls may be approved to sell pull-tickets or offer electronic bingo or Keno. Minors are not allowed in halls offering electronic bingo or Keno.

The licensed charities provide volunteers for key financial positions during the bingo, including bingo chairperson, paymaster, bonanza controller and special games controller. The following are usually paid positions of the Class B Operator: games manager, caller, cashier, hall manager, and pull-ticket manager. Additionally, the licensed charity employs an Independent Hall Advisor to assist with the conduct of the bingo event.

Bingo societies pool bingo and Keno proceeds monthly and allocate the proceeds among member charities according to the number of events per charity. Each society, through a pool agreement signed by all members, must establish one pool for all events. There was one private operator bingo hall in the province as of March 31, 2009.

Groups interested in joining a bingo society should contact the AGLC to be placed on a central registry waiting list for their region. Bingo societies seeking new members should contact the AGLC for names of interested charities.

Community Bingo Halls

This category includes bingos held three times per week or less at small community halls, seniors' centres or church halls. Unlike association bingo, bingos conducted in a community hall are generally conducted by a single charity, so the charity earns all the proceeds from the event. Key positions filled by volunteers include bingo chairperson, bonanza/special games controller and paymaster. Community bingo licensees may pay a caller and a cashier. There were 261 community bingo licensees in 2008-09.

Casino

Highlights

In 2008-09, there were 8,592 casino events held in Alberta. Casino table games generated gross revenues of $1,106.4 million and returned $896.3 million in prizes to players. Charities paid $132.3 million in expenses to casino facility operators, advisors, trustees and others for their services related to table games. Charities received $77.8 million from casino table gaming. An additional $174.6 million from slot machines and Keno was provided to charities, for a total of $252.4 million.

Overview

In Alberta, casino gaming is conducted in traditional casinos and First Nation casinos and includes table games and slot machines.

Casino facilities in Alberta are licensed by the AGLC. As of March 31, 2009, there were 24 permanent casino facilities consisting of 19 traditional casinos and five First Nation casinos.

Traditional Casinos

In traditional casinos, the casino operator provides the facility, gaming expertise and gaming materials for the event. Charities require a licence from the AGLC to conduct the casino event. Generally, a casino event hosted by a charity runs for two days.

The charity provides volunteers for key financial positions during the event and earns proceeds from the table games. The volunteer positions are: general manager, banker, cashier, count room supervisor, chip runner and count room staff (counter, sorters, amalgamator). The casino facility provides a casino games manager who is directly responsible to the charity's general manager. The casino games manager supervises the games area in the casino and ensures that activities follow the Casino Terms & Conditions and Operating Guidelines. Licensed charities also hire independent casino advisors to help them with their event.

Net proceeds (sales less prizes and event expenses) from table games are pooled and distributed to the participating charities quarterly.

Volunteers have no direct role in the operation of slot machines during the casino. The Criminal Code requires a provincial authority, i.e., the AGLC, to manage electronic gaming devices. Charities receive a 15 per cent commission on net sales from slot machines during their casino events. The facility operator also earns a 15 per cent commission and the remaining 70 per cent is transferred to the Alberta Lottery Fund after AGLC's operating costs are deducted. Charities receive a five per cent commission on gross sales from Keno. The facility operator also earns a five per cent commission on gross sales from Keno and a two per cent commission on redemptions. The remainder is transferred to the Alberta Lottery Fund after AGLC operating costs and prize liabilities are deducted. For more information about the Alberta Lottery Fund, see albertalotteryfund.ca.

Charities are required to hold casino events in a facility within their designated region in the province. For example, only licensed charities in Edmonton and Calgary and charities that operate province-wide may hold casinos in those cities. A charity in a rural area may only conduct events at the nearest regional casino facility.

The only exception is the Silver Dollar Casino in Calgary, which serves charities in nearby rural communities. All proceeds from charitable casino events, including slot machine net proceeds, are pooled quarterly by region and divided among the charities involved during the time period.

First Nation Casinos

The Host First Nation (HFN) is the casino facility operator and provides the facility, gaming expertise and gaming materials for the event. The HFN licensed charity also requires a licence from the AGLC to conduct the casino event. Generally, HFN licensed charities are issued a licence for 364 one-day casino events. The HFN and the HFN licensed charity are two separate and distinct organizations.

Proceeds from First Nation casinos support charitable and religious purposes in the HFN community. HFN licensed charities may provide proceeds to sub-charities, if the sub-charity's proposed use of proceeds comply with the policies set out in the Host First Nation Charitable Casino Policies Handbook.

The HFN licensed charity must utilize paid charity workers in the following positions: general manager, banker, cashier, count room supervisor, chip runner and count room staff (counter, sorters, recorder, amalgamator). The HFN licensed charity may employ one individual to fill multiple designated positions. The HFN (casino facility operator) provides a casino games manager who is directly responsible to the charity's general manager. The casino games manager supervises the games area in the casino and ensures that activities follow the Casino Terms & Conditions and Operating Guidelines and the Host First Nation Charitable Casino Policies Handbook. The HFN licensed charity may hire independent casino advisors to help it with its events. The independent casino advisor role may be filled by a qualified general manager at the HFN licensed charity's discretion.

The HFN licensed charity receives the net proceeds (sales less prizes and event expenses) from table games.

Charity workers have no direct role in the operation of slot machines during the casino. The Criminal Code requires a provincial authority, i.e., the AGLC, to manage electronic gaming devices. The HFN licensed charity receives a 15 per cent commission on net sales from slot machines during its events. The HFN (casino facility operator) also earns a 15 per cent commission. The remaining 70 per cent is transferred to the Alberta Lottery Fund after the AGLC's operating costs are deducted. The HFN licensed charity receives a five per cent commission on gross sales from Keno. The HFN (casino facility operator) also earns a five per cent commission on gross sales from Keno and a two per cent commission on redemptions. The remainder is transferred to the Alberta Lottery Fund after AGLC operating costs and prize liabilities are deducted. Pull-Tickets

Highlights

Gross sales from pull-tickets generated $67.4 million in 2008-09 and returned $47.4 million in prizes to players. Charities paid $5.2 million in expenses and earned $14.8 million in proceeds.

Overview

Pull-tickets – also called Nevada or break-open tickets – are a type of instant-win ticket. They have sealed windows or pull-tabs that open to reveal symbols, letters or numbers that correspond with a specific prize.

Generally, groups licensed to sell pull-tickets must sell them from the premises where they provide services to the community in order to ensure that the charity carefully controls sales and protects ticket security. Because of this requirement, usually veteran, fraternal, sport and community associations are eligible to sell pull-tickets. The AGLC also allows charities to sell pull-tickets from their program kiosks at shopping malls. Charities conducting events at licensed bingo halls can also sell pull-tickets at their bingo halls. In this case, the proceeds are pooled monthly and allocated among the charities conducting bingo events during the period.

The charity must arrange to buy its pull-tickets from a supplier registered with the AGLC. Tickets can only be sold by the charity and its volunteers.

Raffles

Highlights

In 2008-09, raffles generated $132.5 million in gross sales and returned $52.2 million in prizes to players. Charities paid $27.4 million in expenses and earned $52.9 million in proceeds from these raffles.

Overview

A raffle is a kind of lottery where prizes are awarded based on a random draw of tickets purchased by players. Prizes for raffles must be at least 20 per cent and expenses no more than 30 per cent of the total ticket value. Only approved expenses required to conduct the raffle may be deducted. Only licensed charitable or religious groups can conduct raffles. Examples of raffles are: 50/50 draws, home lotteries, car and cash raffles, and sports raffles such as hockey pools.

There are two types of licences: one for raffles with a total ticket value greater than $10,000, and one for raffles under $10,000. Eligibility for both types of raffle licences is determined by the AGLC. The AGLC issues licences for raffles with the larger ticket value, while Alberta Registry agents issue licences for the smaller amounts. Charities must be registered with the AGLC for both kinds of raffles.
